This is in response to Applicant's amendment filed on October 13, 2004 in which claims 1 was amended; claims 7-10 were canceled and claims 12-14 were added.

Status of Claims

Claims 1-6 and 11-14 are pending.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-6 and 11-14 now renumbered 1-10 are allowable over the prior art of record.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The present invention is directed to a system and method for arranging multiple certificates on hardware token. More particularly, the invention relates a system and method for including multiple certificates on a hardware token so that a Windows 2000 single Sign-on certificate is the first certificate. The Closest prior art [Freeman U.S. Patent no. 6,308,266] discloses a system and method for including certificates on a hardware token. However, Freeman failed to disclose a methodology for arranging said plurality of certificates so that a certificate having an extension which matches the selected extension is placed in a specific location in a list of said plurality of certificates. This claim feature being present in independent claims 1, 5, 12 render claims 1-6, and 11-14 now renumbered 1-10 allowable over the prior art of record.
